

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Adam doesn't hold back!

Learning Outcome

Exchange information about unlikely events or fairly certain conditions that will be fulfilled in present, past or future in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Has a business ever lost your booking or details? When? What happened?
- How do you deal with poor customer service? Do you speak up?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about results in time.
- I can write or report about things, actions, events, or people related to work and job issues.
- I can exchange complex information and advice on the full range of matters related to the occupational role in a written way.

Let's Explore!

Adam gives the hotel a piece of his mind.

* To give someone "a piece of your mind" is to express a strong opinion, especially when you are angry.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Adam: Hmm, I was asked to complete a feedback form at the hotel, but I prefer to do it now, in my own time. Having experienced poor customer service while at the hotel, I will access the form online rather than communicate with them directly.

Customer Feedback Form

Do you wish to give us feedback? Yes

Date of visit: October 5th - October 8th

Feedback type (Positive, Negative or Neutral): Negative

*The feedback concerns **

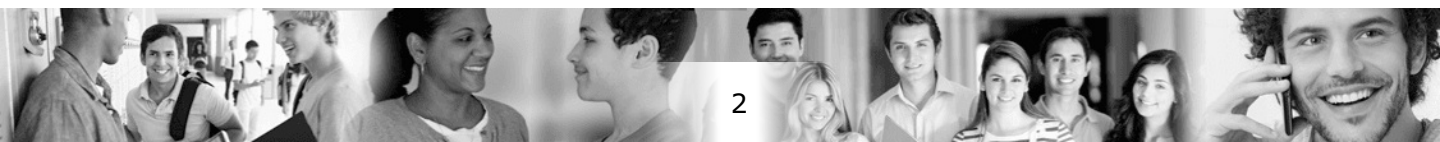

☐ Product ☐ Service ☐ Facilities ☐ Cleanliness ☐ Other (e.g. web site) _____

I am going to answer "Service".

*Feedback **

Unfortunately, our stay at your hotel was not a pleasant one. Despite having booked well in advance, we were told that our reservation didn't exist in the computer system. We then proceeded to wait for over twenty-five minutes at the counter while the receptionist attempted to retrieve our information. Our original booking had also included two deluxe rooms, city views and late checkout; however, that information was unavailable. It was only when we provided a booking receipt that the receptionist begrudgingly gave us the key to our room.

Having made our way to the fifth floor, we were shocked to find that our rooms had not yet been serviced. Towels were scattered on the floor, the beds were unmade and the bathrooms were filthy. A cleaner was casually chatting on her cellphone near the elevators with no interest in assisting us with our predicament. Having waited for almost twenty minutes, she ended the call complaining that she could barely hear her friend due to our conversation. Her unprofessional demeanor and sarcastic tone were not well received. Being subjected to substandard service is unacceptable, particularly at the price point. Having stayed at your hotel, I would not recommend it to anyone in the future.

Let's Practice!

Adam expresses his frustration.

Instructions: Match the two halves to correctly complete the feedback form. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| 1. Having experienced poor | a. floor, we were shocked to find that our rooms had not yet been serviced. |
| 2. Despite having booked | b. well in advance, we were told that our reservation didn't exist in the computer system. |
| 3. Having made our way to the fifth | c. waited for almost twenty minutes, she ended the call complaining that she could barely hear her friend due to our conversation. |
| 4. Having | d. service is unacceptable, particularly at that price point. |
| 5. Being subjected to substandard | e. customer service while at the hotel, I will access the form online rather than communicate with them directly. |
| 6. Having stayed at your | f. hotel, I would not recommend it to anyone it the future. |

Let's Practice!

What happened during Adam and Boris' stay?

Instructions: Read the text. Proofread the sentences below and circle the mistakes you find. Correct the sentences.

1. We then preceded to wait for over twenty-five minutes at the counter while she attempts to retrieve our information.
2. Our original booking had also include two deluxe rooms, city views and a late checkout; however, that information is unavailable.
3. A cleaner was casually chat on her cellphone near the elevators with no interest in assist us with our predicament.
4. Her unprofessional demeanor and sarcastic tone were not well receiving.
5. It was only when we provide a booking receipt that the receptionist begrudgingly give us the key to our room.
6. Do you wishes to give us feedback?

Extension Activity

Research a 5-star hotel.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Research a 5-star hotel online.
- Imagine you were staying at the hotel during a conference.
- Write a 160-180 word review on the hotel based on your wonderful experience.
- Describe the staff, your room and the amenities.
- Use vocabulary words related to positive behaviors and situations.
- Explain why you would recommend the hotel.
- When your review is complete, read it aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I research hotels online.

☐ ☐

I write a positive review about a hotel.

☐ ☐

I read my review aloud to a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- begrudgingly (adverb): said, done, or given in a reluctant way
e.g. It was only when we provided a booking receipt that the receptionist begrudgingly gave us the key to our room.
- to service (verb): to do the work that is needed to keep something in good condition e.g. Having made our way to the fifth floor we were shocked to find that our rooms had not yet been serviced.
- demeanor (noun): a person's appearance and behavior
e.g. Her unprofessional demeanor was not well received by the customers.
- filthy (adjective): very dirty
e.g. Towels were scattered on the floor, the beds were unmade and the bathrooms were filthy.
- counter (noun): a piece of furniture with a flat surface that workers and customers stand on opposite sides of, when doing business e.g. We then proceeded to wait for over twenty-five minutes at the counter while she attempted to retrieve our information.
- deluxe (adjective): very luxurious e.g. Our original booking had also included two deluxe rooms, city views and late checkout; however, that information was unavailable.
- sarcastic (adjective): the use of words that mean the opposite of what you really want to say especially in order to insult someone, to show irritation, or to be funny e.g. Her sarcastic tone was not appreciated.

Learning Points

Perfect -ing forms

When you want to talk about results and time, you can use a Perfect - ing form. You use this type of structure when you want to emphasize that one thing happens before another.

For example:

*I don't remember having met you before.

In this case, the action that comes first is Having met you. It is clear that the action I don't remember comes last.

The form of the Perfect - ing is:

Having + past participle

Take a look at the examples from the text. Think about which event happened first.

Examples:

- Despite having booked well in advance, we were told that our reservation didn't exist in the computer system.
- Having experienced poor customer service while at the hotel, I will access the form online rather than communicate with them directly.
- Being subjected to substandard service is unacceptable, particularly at that price point.

How to fill out a feedback form for the hotel

Hotel guests will occasionally be disappointed with something during their hotel stay. Staff should anticipate complaints and devise strategies to help staff effectively resolve the situation.

When guests are able to express their opinions, both the hotel and the guest benefit. Hotels learn of potential problems or valid concerns and have the opportunity to resolve them.

Feedback forms are often given to guests at the time of departure, either at checkout or placed in their guest room. Also, online feedback has become increasingly popular.

Guests can express their opinions on different areas such as service, room, amenities and overall experience.

Examples:

- Being subjected to substandard service is unacceptable, particularly at that price point.
- Having stayed at your hotel, I would not recommend it to anyone in the future.

