

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

A meeting with the author.

Learning Outcome

Describe the reasons or results of events or actions in spoken or written texts, in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What are the best publicity stunts you have ever seen?
- What is your favorite TV commercial? Describe it.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about the present result of events that started in the past in work and job issues.
- I can claim, mention, request, or point out an idea, thing, or issue in the workplace.
- I can exchange complex information and advice on the full range of matters related to the occupational role.

Let's Explore!

Denise and Kristi put their heads together.

* If two people "put their heads together", they collaborate to come up with ideas or solutions.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Denise : Thanks for meeting with me to discuss publicity for the book, Marisa. I've invited Kristi as well, as it seems she has some contacts in the media.
- Marisa : No problem at all. I know how important it can be to generate a little buzz.
- Denise : Personally, I'm hoping for more than buzz. I want a tidal wave of publicity, which is why we have already come up with an exhaustive game plan for promotion.
- Marisa : It was claimed that BFP was the best, but now I'm really beginning to see why. No stone is left unturned.
- Denise : Thanks Marisa. We really try to exceed expectations. First of all, it was pointed out that Winnie is a tech-savvy hedgehog, so wouldn't it make sense for her to have her own twitter account? I've already had our team come up with a logo. The account will be called "Winnie's Wisdom" and she will tweet helpful and safe social media tips.
- Marisa : What a great idea! I've always wanted to see Winnie brought to life, and now it seems as though you have already made it happen. I love it.
- Denise : Good, I'm glad you're on board. We'd also like to get your face out there. Kristi has worked on both radio and television, and she has already proposed a few ideas.
- Kristi : To start with, I have some contacts at the radio station. It was mentioned by the director that a few time slots might need to be filled, particularly in the morning.
- Denise : The morning is great. That allows us to hit our target demographic, parents and kids, while they are eating breakfast. Have you also spoken with Breakfast Television?
- Kristi : An interview was requested, but we're waiting to hear back about the exact time. It will air Saturday morning, but the taping will probably occur sometime Friday afternoon. Do those times work with your schedule, Marisa?
- Marisa: I'll make it work. I know how important that is to the success of the book.
- Denise : Thanks for being such a good sport, Marisa. Well, we don't want to overwhelm you, so let's start with those three items and go from there.
- Marisa : Sounds good, Denise. As always, thank you for your diligence.

Let's Practice!

What did the report say?

Instructions: Match the two halves to correctly complete the sentences. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. It was claimed
2. First of all, it was pointed
3. It was mentioned
4. An interview was requested
5. It was reported

COLUMN B

- a. that BFP was the best.
- b. out that Winnie is a tech-savvy hedgehog.
- c. by the director that a few time slots might need to be filled, particularly in the morning.
- d. that Marisa brought Winnie to life.
- e. , but we're waiting to hear back about the exact time.

Let's Practice!

Thanks for being such a good sport*!

*A "good sport" is someone who handles situations positively.

Instructions: Use the options from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences. There are 3 extra options.

Word Bank

air Saturday morning / exceed expectations / tech- savvy hedgehog / generate a little buzz / target demographic / exhaustive game plan / target demography / exhausting game plan / diligent / diligence

1. I know how important it can be to _____.
2. We have already come up with an _____ for promotion.
3. We really try to _____.
4. Winnie is a _____, so wouldn't it make sense for her to have her own twitter account?
5. That allows us to hit our _____, parents and kids, while they are eating breakfast.
6. It will _____, but the taping will probably occur sometime Friday afternoon.
7. As always, thank you for your _____.

Extension Activity

Write a TV commercial.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine that you have to promote a new book.
- Write a plan for a TV commercial to promote the book.
- "Pitch" your TV commercial by presenting it to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I plan how to promote a book.

☐ ☐

I write an outline for a TV commercial.

☐ ☐

I present my plan to a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- buzz (noun): excitement surrounding a product or event
e.g. I know how important it can be to generate a little buzz.
- exhaustive (adjective): complete; including everything e.g. I want a tidal wave of publicity, which is why we have come up with an exhaustive game plan for promotion.
- game plan (noun): a plan for achieving success
e.g. Our game plan includes TV and radio.
- leave no stone unturned (expression): to do everything possible e.g. No stone is left unturned when BFP works on a project.
- to exceed expectations (expression): to do more than expected e.g. We really try to exceed expectations.
- tech-savvy (adjective): knowing a lot about technology
e.g. It was pointed out that Winnie is a tech-savvy hedgehog, so wouldn't it make sense for her to have her own twitter account?
- demographic (noun): a group of people who are similar in certain characteristics like age or gender e.g. That allows us to hit our target demographic, parents and kids, while they are eating breakfast.
- to air (verb): to broadcast something on radio or TV
e.g. It will air Saturday morning, but the taping will probably occur sometime Friday afternoon.
- diligence (noun): careful and persistent work
e.g. As always, thank you for your diligence.

Learning Points

The Present Perfect: Commenting on the Present Results of Something In the Past

You use the Present Perfect to talk about past actions that have a connection to the present.

When you want to comment on the present results of a past action you can use the Present Perfect with verbs like appear, seem and sound.

For example:

It sounds as if you've already decided on the next course of action.

It seems they have completed the report ahead of schedule.

The form of the Present Perfect is:

subject + has/have + past participle

You can use some typical expressions with the Present Perfect like just, recently, already, lately, before, so far etc.

Examples:

- I've invited Kristi as well, as it sounds as if she has some contacts in the media.
- I want a tidal wave of publicity, which is why we have already come up with an exhaustive game plan for promotion.
- I've already had our team come up with a logo.
- I have always wanted to see Winnie brought to life, and now it seems as though you have already made it happen.

Learning Points

Report Verbs and the Agent of Verbs of Reporting

You use two patterns with report verbs: active and passive.

You use the passive when there is no reason to mention the agent (or doer) of the action.

In some cases, you can choose to express the agent, but it is still seen as of secondary importance after the subject. Sometimes using the agent helps to clarify the source of the information for the reader or listener.

For example:

It was mentioned by the director that a few time slots might need to be filled, particularly in the morning.

Some common report verbs are: claim, mention, request and point out.

Take a look at some examples of the passive construction of report verbs:

Examples:

- It was claimed that BFP was the best, but I'm now I'm really beginning to see why.
- It was pointed out that Winnie is a tech-savvy hedgehog, so wouldn't it make sense for her to have her own twitter account?
- It was mentioned by the director that a few time slots might need to be filled, particularly in the morning.
- An interview was requested, but we're waiting to hear back about the exact time.

