

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Understand actions, events, and experiences in present, past or future and in spoken or written texts and in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you procrastinate, or do you get things done ahead of schedule? Provide examples.
- When you travel, do you prefer to plan ahead or to plan as you go? Explain your choice.

Can Do Statements

- I can express willingness or intention to do something in work and job issues.
- I can express duty and advice related to work and job issues.
- I can request or report about the purpose of events or actions related to job issues.

Let's Explore!

Kristi ties up some loose ends.

* To "tie up loose ends" means to take care of minor details to complete a project.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Kristi: Hi Adam. I'm just a little bit worried about the launch. I could really use your help looking over the plans, in order to ensure that no stone is left unturned.
- Adam: Not a problem at all. I'd be happy to give everything a once-over. Where should we start?
- Kristi: Well, we've got a good game plan, but I really want to exceed expectations. To start with, it occurred to me that we've got wine and food for the parents, but we have nothing for the kids. We really ought to come up with something to keep them entertained, especially since they will be expected to wait in line for hours.
- Adam: I agree. Perhaps we could have a little "Kid's Corner", so as to take some of the burden away from the parents.
- Kristi: That would be excellent. We should have games and activities set up for them, and I will be sure to get some form of entertainment. Maybe a clown.
- Adam: That's a great idea. Perhaps we should have a few different activities in order to keep them engaged. I know at my nephew's birthday party, there was a guy making balloon animals and an artist drawing caricatures.
- Kristi: Good stuff. I'll be sure to book with them both this week. That ought to keep the children busy. Besides, our venue is a bookstore, so someone should be available to read stories as well.
- Adam: Yeah, that should really help to clear out some of the foot traffic. We want to ensure everyone isn't just swarming Marisa's table. I really do think you've thought of just about every last detail, Kristi.
- Kristi: I know, I know. I just want to make sure I've gone over everything with a fine-tooth comb. I want to make Denise proud of me on this one, in order to have a better chance at landing a leading role on the next big project.
- Adam: Well, I'm sure she will be very impressed with your diligence. You've done a great job.
- Kristi: Thanks, Adam. I certainly hope so.

Let's Practice!

Kristi wants to make Denise proud!

Instructions: Read the sentences. Select the correct sentences. Practice saying the complete sentences aloud with your partner. Correct each other.

Which sentences are correct grammatically?

1. ____ We need to be thorough in order to ensure that no stone is left unturned.
2. ____ To start with, it occurred to me that we've got wine and food for the parents, but we have nothing for the kids.
3. ____ I want to do well in this project in order for get a promotion.
4. ____ We need to have entertainment for the kids so as to take some of the burden away from the parents.
5. ____ Perhaps we should have a few different activities in order to keep them engaged.
6. ____ Maybe should having a clown to entertain the kids?
7. ____ I want to make Denise proud of me on this one, in order to have a better chance at landing a leading role on the next big project.

Let's Practice!

They would be happy to help!

Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the gaps with the options from the Word Bank.

Word Bank

That would be / I'm sure she will / I'd be happy to / they will be expected / I will be sure to get

1. _____ give everything a once over. Where should we start?
2. We really ought to come up with something to keep them entertained, especially since _____ to wait in line for hours.
3. _____ excellent!
4. We should have games and activities set up for them, and _____ some form of entertainment.
5. Well, _____ be very impressed with your diligence.

Extension Activity

Host a group of businesspeople.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine that a group of businesspeople will be visiting your hometown.
- Research a number of social and cultural activities for them to do.
- Create a one-week itinerary, outlining all of the things that they will see and do.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I research social and cultural activities.

☐ ☐

I plan future events.

☐ ☐

I create an itinerary.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to look over (verb): to review
e.g. I could really use your help looking over the plans.
- to give something a once-over (expression): to review something quickly e.g. I'd be happy to give everything a once-over.
- to go over with a fine-tooth comb (expression): to review something thoroughly e.g. I just want to make sure I've gone over everything with a fine-tooth comb.
- game plan (noun): a plan for achieving success
e.g. We've got a good game plan.
- leave no stone unturned (expression): to do everything possible e.g. I want to ensure that no stone is left unturned.
- to exceed expectations (expression): to do more than expected e.g. I really want to exceed expectations.
- to book (verb): to reserve
e.g. I'll be sure to book them both this week.
- foot traffic (noun): people who are moving from one place to another on foot; pedestrians e.g. That should really help to clear out some of the foot traffic.
- diligence (noun): careful and persistent work
e.g. I'm sure she will be very impressed with your diligence.
- to swarm (verb): to move together as a group
e.g. We want to ensure everyone isn't just swarming Marisa's table.

Learning Points

Will and Would to Express Intention or Willingness

You use will to talk about willingness or intention to do something.

You can also use would to talk about willingness.

When you use would to talk about willingness or will to talk about willingness or intention, the context from the situation must be clear.

For example:

I'll text you when I arrive. (intention)

I'll translate for you - my Japanese is pretty good. (willingness)

Would you mind translating for me? (willingness)

No, I wouldn't mind doing that. (willingness)

Read the examples from the text. Keep the context in mind as you do.

Examples:

- I'd be happy to give everything a once-over.
- We really ought to come up with something to keep them entertained, especially since they will be expected to wait in line for hours.
- That would be excellent.
- We should have games and activities set up for them, and I will be sure to get some form of entertainment.

Learning Points

Purpose Clauses Including In order to, for and so as to

When you want to talk about the purpose of something, you can use the phrases in order/so as + infinitive or for.

Look at the chart for a review of these types of clauses:

Phrase/Word	Use/Form	Example
in order/so as + infinitive	to talk about the purpose of something add not before the infinitive to make the sentence negative	They packed a lunch in order to/so as to avoid spending too much on the trip. They packed a lunch in order not to/so as not to have to line up.
for	to talk about the purpose of an action (for + noun) to talk about the purpose of a thing (for + verb-ing)	I'm watching this for search purposes. This is good for figuring out the needs of the company.

Examples:

- I could really use your help looking over the plans, in order to ensure that no stone is left unturned.
- Perhaps we could have a little "Kid's Corner", so as to take some of the burden away from the parents.
- Perhaps we should have a few different activities in order to keep them engaged.
- It occurred to me that we've got wine and food for the parents, but we have nothing for the kids.

